

KS3 Revision Timetable

Your revision timetable will help you to be organised and on track in the run up to your assessments. You do not need to study from 8am-10pm; decide which hours of the day you can concentrate best.

Use different colours for different topics. Remember to keep reviewing what you have revised and testing yourself at the end of the day, the next day and the end of the week - this will help you to recall the information in the exam (there is an example further down this document).

Don't be over ambitious – break work down into small chunks. Assess how familiar you are with each topic and focus on your weak areas. Take breaks, do short (45 minute) sessions often and include rewards – that way you are more likely to stick to your timetable.

When you know the date of each assessment, you should put these on your revision timetable so that you have a goal to work towards.

Mix it up – make sure you use a range of different types of revision activities – here are some ideas...

Make a mind map from memory	Create a revision wall to display your learning	Compare model answers/mark scheme with your own work	Take an Educake test and revise what you don't know	Attend a revision/intervention session	Meet a teacher to work on a topic you are struggling with
Write exam answers in timed conditions	Work with a friend using revision cards testing each other	Use Hegarty Maths to practise a topic and Method Maths to test yourself with exam questions	Complete a 20, 30, 40 minute task from RE/History/Geography Revision Walls	Work through some pages of your revision booklet for a Topic	Get someone to test you on key words and revision cards
Practice recall – draw a diagram from memory, write key word definitions	Use a PLC/Checklist to focus on Red/Amber topics	Read an exam paper through and check that you understand the language	Use your revision guide to create revision cards	Recall something from this week, last month and last year	Try a question, check your answer from your revision guide/notes, then check the mark scheme
